- Chartered Financial Analyst designation, ("CFA")
- Chartered Financial Consultant ("ChFC")
- Chartered Advisor for Senior Living ("CASL)
- Accredited Investment Fiduciary ("AIF")

Chartered Financial Analyst® CFA

The CFA is offered by the CFA Institute. The Charter gives a strong understanding of advanced investment analysis and portfolio management skills. The program is a self-study, graduate level program divided into three levels of exams.

Prerequisites/Experience Required:

Candidate must meet one of the following education requirements:

- Undergraduate education: a bachelor's degree or in final year of bachelor's degree program.
- 4 years of professional experience
- A combination of professional work experience and education that totals at least four years

Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct:

Candidates must complete a professional conduct statement to attest that they are in compliance with this requirement.

Educational Requirements:

A rigorous self-study program (250 hours of study for each of the 3 levels) is built from the CFA Institute Body of Knowledge, covering investment management in 10 key areas of study.

Examination:

3 six hour exams (Levels I, II and III) are offered each June and must be passed sequentially.

Continuing Education Requirements:

Voluntary but recommended minimum of 20 hours per year of CE credits with at least two hours in Standards, Ethics and Regulations.

Certified Financial Planner™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

Education: Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Examination: Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.

Experience: Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).

Ethics: Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals. Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks.

Continuing Education: Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field.

Ethics: Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Additional information regarding this designation is available by contacting the CFP Board at www.CFP.net.

ChFC - Chartered Financial Consultant

The Chartered Financial Consultant or ChFC is granted by The American College.

Experience Required:

3 years of full-time business experience within the five years preceding the awarding of the designation

Educational Requirements:

The completion of 6 core and 2 elective college level courses from The American College

Examination:

One final proctored exam for each of the eight courses

Continuing Education Requirements:

30 CE credits every 2 years

Ethics:

To receive the designation, candidates must agree to comply with The American College Code of Ethics and Procedures and participate in the Professional Recertification Program.

CASL - Chartered Advisor for Senior Living

The Chartered Advisor for Senior Living or CASL is granted by The American College.

Experience Required:

3 years of full-time business experience within the five years preceding the awarding of the designation

Educational Requirements:

The completion of five core college level courses from The American College

Examination:

One final proctored exam for each of the five courses.

Continuing Education/Experience Requirements:

15 CE credits every 2 years

Ethics:

To receive the designation, candidates must agree to comply with the American College Code of Ethics and Procedures and participate in the Professional Recertification Program.

AIF-Accredited Investment Fiduciary®

The AIF designation certifies that the recipient has specialized knowledge of fiduciary standards of care and their application to the investment management process. To receive the AIF designation, individuals must complete a training program, successfully pass a comprehensive, closed-book final examination under the supervision of a proctor and agree to abide by the AIF Code of Ethics. In order to maintain the AIF designation, the individual must annually renew their affirmation of the AIF Code of Ethics and complete six hours of continuing education credits. The certification is administered by the Center for Fiduciary Studies, LLC (a Fiduciary360 (fi360)).
